Health Professions Advising Center

COVID-19 UPDATE: Should I switch my classes to CR/NC?

UT Dallas is the #25 medical feeder school in America, and #3 in Texas—outranking many much larger universities!—according to the American Association of Medical Colleges.

Due to pandemic restrictions, HPAC personnel are advising from off campus.

- Short General Questions: Consult the Pre-Health Starter Kit. Couldn't find your answer? E-mail prehealth@utdallas.edu
- Request an online advisor meeting: Message Margaret Swigert on Teams, or e-mail prehealth@utdallas.edu.
- Application Questions: e-mail your assigned advisor

https://oue.utdallas.edu/pre-health/makepdf
Use HPAC to...

- Discuss your health career options, requisite and recommended courses, and major
- Discuss activities that contribute to your pre-professional development, such as clinical, volunteer and research experiences
- Evaluate your strengths and weaknesses as an applicant
- Find information on summer programs
- Access FREE medical journals and the Resource Room

HPAC supports your Health Professions School applications by offering:

- A series of seminars in person and through eLearning: General Application Orientation (GAO), Personal Statement Writing (PSW), Interview Skill Workshop (ISW), and Application 101
- Application advising and guidance
- Revision of your application and application essays
- Health Professions Evaluation (HPE) interviews with UT Dallas faculty
- Committee Evaluation and Committee Letter
- Collection and distribution of your recommendation letters

Some services are limited to qualifying applicants.